FREE FAMILY ENTERTAINMENT AT WALLEYE WEEKEND'S CHARTER COMMUNICATIONS STAGE

(6/1/11)—Walleye Weekend is less than two weeks away and is set to entertain children of all ages with the Charter Communications Familyland Stage. Don't miss your chance to see some of your favorite characters and much more!

The Charter Communications Familyland Stage will again be offering meet and greet opportunities with some of your favorite characters including; Scooby Doo and Shaggy, Yogi Bear and Boo Boo, and SpongeBob SquarePants. Stop over and get your picture taken while they make an appearance.

Gypsy Geoff will also be returning this year to awe you with his magic and shock you with his daring stunts. Gypsy Geoff performs his amazing feats at Summerfest and New York's Union Square, and is sure to entertain Walleye Weekend guests of all ages.

Back again this year will be the Hannah Montana Tribute Show, starring Charissa Mrowka. Mrowka will wow you with her strong vocals and charisma. She has performed at venues such as House of Blues, Nashville Palace, Genesee Theater and Tootsie's Orchid Lounge.

New this year will be the Move to the Grove show with Rhex Arboleda, who was featured on Extreme Home Makeover in Neenah. Move to the Groove is an award-winning dance fitness program that makes exercise less like gym class and more like a playground.

The Charter Communications stage will also be hosting the Yell and Tell Program for the second time at Walleye Weekend. This program was founded by Jean Davidson who lost her grandson to a preventable drowning. The program's goal is to teach young children what to do in dangerous situations—see it, feel it, yell and tell. Make sure to stop by Familyland to meet Squawk and learn what to do in unsafe situations.
